

Smiling at the storms in 2022 and beyond

[Quadragesimal - Ruby Jubilee for SABPP in 2022]

Compliments of the season! I am so glad that you made it to 2022. The last two years have been unprecedented. COVID -19 stopped the world and changed the way we deal with work, events, homes, travelling, relationships and everything in between.

In the past two years many lives were lost, livelihood affected, and the healthcare system put under constraint.

As we progressively recover from the devastating impact of covid, we would like to choose to:

Continue protecting ourselves through vaccination, use of mask, social distancing and responsible behaviour

Fight for saving livelihood and the economy

Open up face to face activities responsibly yet giving members a choice to attend virtually without missing anything

Keep on pushing for our core-business i.e., professionalising Human Resources and transforming the workplaces.

Lead on agility. The world has changed, and things may never get back to 2019. Therefore, SABPP must realise that its role needs to change with or ahead of the times.

Three years ago, SABPP Board approved a new strategy called the People Factor Strategy #202030. This strategy is meant to guide SABPP and the HR Profession until 2030 with special emphasis period of three years (equivalent to the Board term). A new Board was recently constituted at the expiry of the previous Board term. Therefore, the new Board (2021 -2024) will next month convene and set up a strategy for the next three years, of course under pinned by the People Factor strategy #202030. You may want to contribute or suggest the direction SABPP must take. If you would like that please send your comments/suggestions to x-factor@sabpp.co.za.

In the meantime, its business as usual at SABPP. We want to continue or start activities that will speak to our value add and relevance. . Some of these include:

3-year Board strategy (part of the 2030 People Factor Strategy)

Improved Communication and Branding keeping in touch with all relevant stakeholders and clients.
